

A Look At Our Student Union

By Pearl Seale, Sue Thomas, Eva Lee Heidel

Our new student union has a peculiar significance. There are only four medical student unions in the United States, the oldest one being in Chicago. Ours is unique in itself in that it combines the facilities of both a dormitory and a student union. The dormitory facilities include two wings, one which will accommodate 112 single women and the other which will house 45 single men students. The total cost of the combined structure is 3.5 million dollars. According to present plans, the building will be completed around March of next year.

Single Women's Wing

The women's wing occupies five floors. The nicest home couldn't offer a girl more satisfactory living conditions. On the first floor is the general lounge where the girls may entertain their visitors. The reception desk is the main feature of the lounge. From here the women students can be reached through an intercom system, which connects with each room.

At the rear of the building can be found the women's private lounge, a small kitchen, and a recreational room which overlooks San Francisco.

On the next four floors are found the living quarters. Two students will share a room. Cabinets, bookcase, desks, mirrors, a wash basin, and two wardrobes, each approximately 5 feet long, are built into each room. Adjoining bathrooms will be shared by every four students.

Alternating floors have study rooms or recreation rooms with pullman kitchens. In the basement of the dormitory, laundry facilities and a sewing room are provided.

Single Men's Wing

Above the main floor of the student union is the interns' wing. It occupies two floors. Plans are being made for the addition of two more floors at a later date. Offices are being provided for the various student organizations and these are located on the first floor of this particular wing.

For distinguished guests, two suites will be especially prepared on the first floor. The provisions for these rooms have been made possible through the efforts of the doctors' wives.

The second floor will be devoted to the individual rooms, each room occupied by two students. For the convenience of the interns, a telephone will be in each room.

Student Union Itself

Next we shall turn to the student union portion of the combined structure. This new union will be under the direction of Mr. Robert Alexander. Mr. Alexander is a graduate of the University of Illinois and has been recently engaged in the administration of the Kansas State Union. He and his family arrived in San Francisco last Friday, October 4. Our new director will have a busy schedule here at the Medical Center. The student union will extend many recreational facilities to the students. We will enjoy music in the Hi-fi room, a large swimming pool, squash courts, an exercise room, gym, billiard room, and table tennis room.

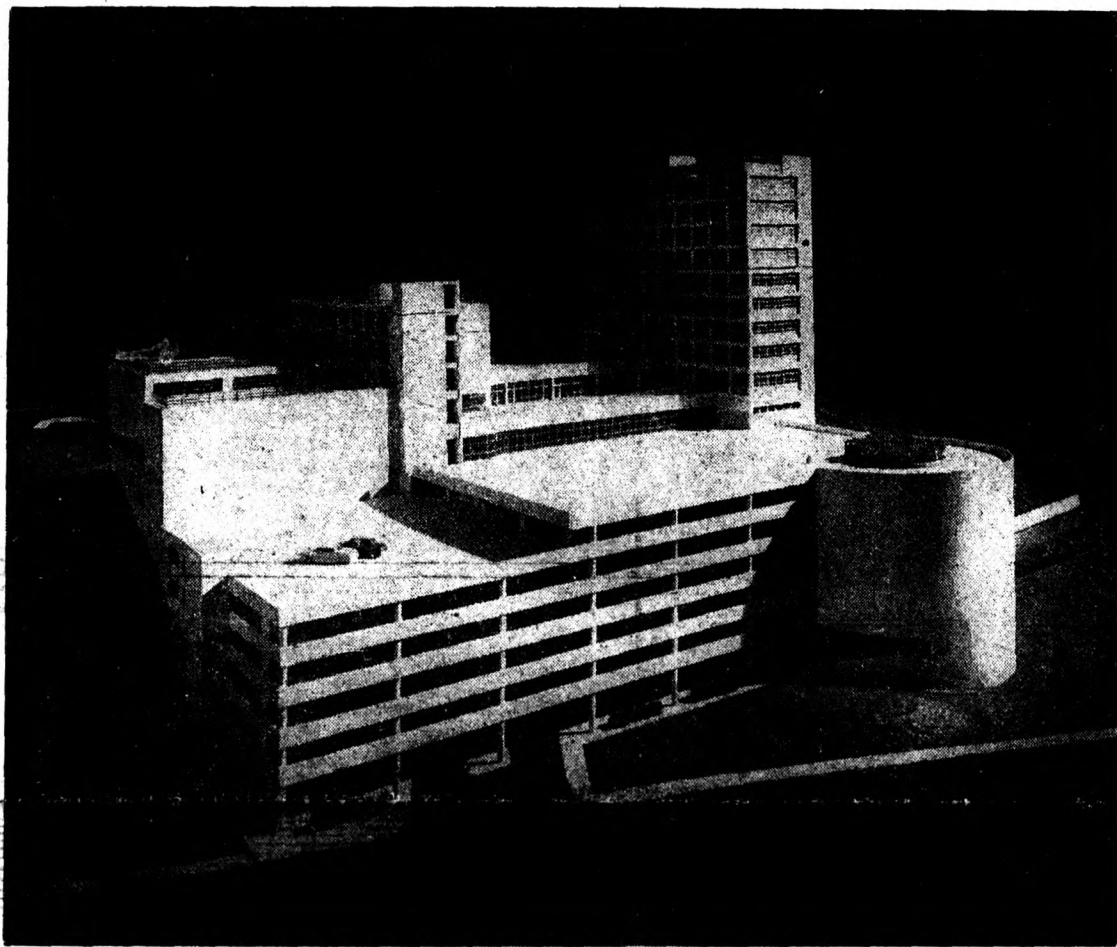

The swimming pool, as a recreational facility, will offer the students a great deal of enjoyment. The pool, which at this time is almost finished, is on the level below the ground floor. It is 60x28 feet. The side walls, surrounding deck, and the pool itself will be finished in green tile. Men's and women's dressings rooms will also be finished in green tile. Marble has been used for the women's shower stalls and dressing booths.

Squash courts are located on the same floor as the pool. Spectators can watch the activities from gallery windows on the level above.

For that healthy, tired feeling, weight-lifting and muscle-building equipment will be provided in the exercise room.

You might also be interested in the facilities of the gym. Do you like basketball? There is a full court. Are movies more to your taste? Provision has been made for 35 mm projection equipment. Perhaps you prefer live stage productions? We have two stages. In fact, almost any activity can be accommodated—it even can serve as an assembly room that will seat 800 people.

Our student union is the epitome of convenience. Our bookstore, beauty salon, and barber shop are just off the main lobby. A sound-proof study room is located next door to the Hi-fi room. Souvenirs may be purchased by the public at the gift shop. West of the main lounge are two conference rooms for the faculty. Are you a bit confused? You can't get lost, the information desk is nearby.

The Lounge

The student-faculty lounge is beautiful, comfortable, and spacious. A fireplace is the focal point of the lounge. It will be finished in a modern mosaic design. The artist will be Mr. Robert Howard, a well-known Bay Area sculptor. The rich wood paneling, the functional beauty of modern Danish furnishings, and the deep wall-to-wall carpets, mark the restful mood for which the lounge was designed. Planters divide the rooms. From any point in the room one can look north and see the panorama of the Bay Area.

Much care and support have been extended toward furnishing of the student union. Under special order of the owner a stand of lumber in Oregon was sent to Seattle to be converted into costly paneling. This is now the paneling that adds so much to our lounge. Because of the interest of others, the benefits of fine Hi-fidelity equipment can be appreciated in the music room. There have been many other generous contributions. These in-

Union Constitution Formulation Underway

One can plainly see from the article, "A Look at Our Student Union" that we are really fortunate in having such a lavish union built for us. In the last issue of Synapse we indicated that there were problems to be solved—and solved soon—if the Union was to be fully acceptable to all groups. Except for a small group of faculty, alumni, and students the Medical Center population is unaware of the long meetings and sleepless nights which are being poured into the formation of a workable Union. For the past two weeks, Synapse staff reporters have dug into the many aspects of the situation and have come up with what we feel to be the true picture as of this printing. Fortunately, everything at this time is still tentative or proposed. There is still plenty of room for discussion and no one should feel this is an open and shut case.

Story Begins

Our story begins about 30 years ago when Dr. Steninger, the graduate manager for the Associated Dental Students, was a student. With the help of an active student body and with the support of the faculty, he established the student store, as we reported in the last issue. At that time he had a dream—a dream of a student union. He began modestly to make this dream come true by ear-marking the profits of the store and canteen for this project. But a student union cost a lot of money—a lot of money the student body didn't have. Nevertheless, his dream continued to grow from the "thinking" to the "doing" stage. His interest was so strong that when he graduated he became the graduate manager of the store so that he could inform each class, as it came along, of his plans and so they, too, could enter into the spirit of this project.

When Dr. Steninger learned that the University planned to build a new dormitory across the street, he had the inspiration that this was the moment to strike. He had originally planned a separate Union building, but we didn't have the money to foot the bill so he convinced others that a union could be built now by merely borrowing part of the combined structure's foundation and building the Union as an integral part of the dormitory. This is where a reorientation of dreams became necessary. It would have been simple to operate and maintain a separate building, but a building with separate interests created problems of efficiency if run independently.

Immediately there arose the questions of authority—who would run what, who would decide policy, who would be responsible, who would pay the bills? (Continued on Page 2)

Pharmacy Picnic

By Bob Day

"The subject of today's lecture," the professor began, glancing nervously around the empty classroom, "is hallucinations."

No one had explained to him that particular day, Wednesday, October 9, was the day of the Pharmacy School Picnic.

Meanwhile out on Flood Park in Redwood City, while his lecture was developing (and it really was his best lecture of the year), the faculty and students were renewing their annual, traditional softball contest. Between rounds of tennis, volleyball and football the revelers consumed three kegs of beer and two cases of pop. Hundreds of twelve-ounce barbecued steaks with all the trimmings, furnished by an anonymous but highly appreciated professor, supplied the energy for these multiple and exhausting activities.

At the end of the day some 250 students and faculty members began the homeward journey, tired and bruised, with heavy feet but light hearts.

Dental Picnic

By Mori Corbett

Some twenty-seven years ago the dental school picnic was first organized. It was instituted to create a closer relationship between faculty and students. The picnic has evolved from a small social affair to the fun-packed day of recreation and steak barbecue that exists today. This year's picnic served some 325 students and 60 faculty members.

Our gratitude should be expressed to Dean Fleming for using his powers that be to wisk away all the rain clouds, and thus providing sunny weather for the occasion.

Most of all, we owe a debt of appreciation to Jan Walters, general chairman for the picnic, for the excellent job she did in organizing the day's activities.

This year there were events to suit every student's interest, even if they wanted to just sit and watch. Charlie Caldwell pulled the golfers out of bed to tee off at 7:00 a.m. in Palo Alto; and Ruben Burrell somehow managed to get the fishermen off at 5:00 a.m. At San Mateo Park, where the picnic was held, other students took part in softball, volleyball, football, tennis, or ping-pong tournaments.

The dental hygiene and dental students want to express their sincere appreciation to each and everyone of the faculty for the wonderful day they provided us. Sore muscles and all, we are already looking forward to next year's picnic.

EDITORIAL

In this issue of Synapse it is our purpose to enlighten all students, faculty and alumni of the Medical Center with our impressions of the Guy S. Milberry Memorial Union which is fast nearing completion. A newspaper's main purpose for being is simply to convey facts—to print the truth. Unfortunately to do this without thought for human emotions or without investigating all sides can often create ill feelings and opinions out of proportion to the problem.

The task of bringing before you this presentation of the Union has been a major undertaking. The Union is designed to create harmony and a sense of cooperation between all schools and all classifications of persons in all schools. True, we do have difficulties as the accompanying article indicates, but many of these are bred out of a simple lack of communication between the groups concerned.

Synapse would like to follow its true function of printing news and not sit in judgment of the problems confronting us. It is for this reason that we would like to extend the following invitation to all groups who are working to solve the many differences so that we may have a Union Constitution acceptable to all groups.

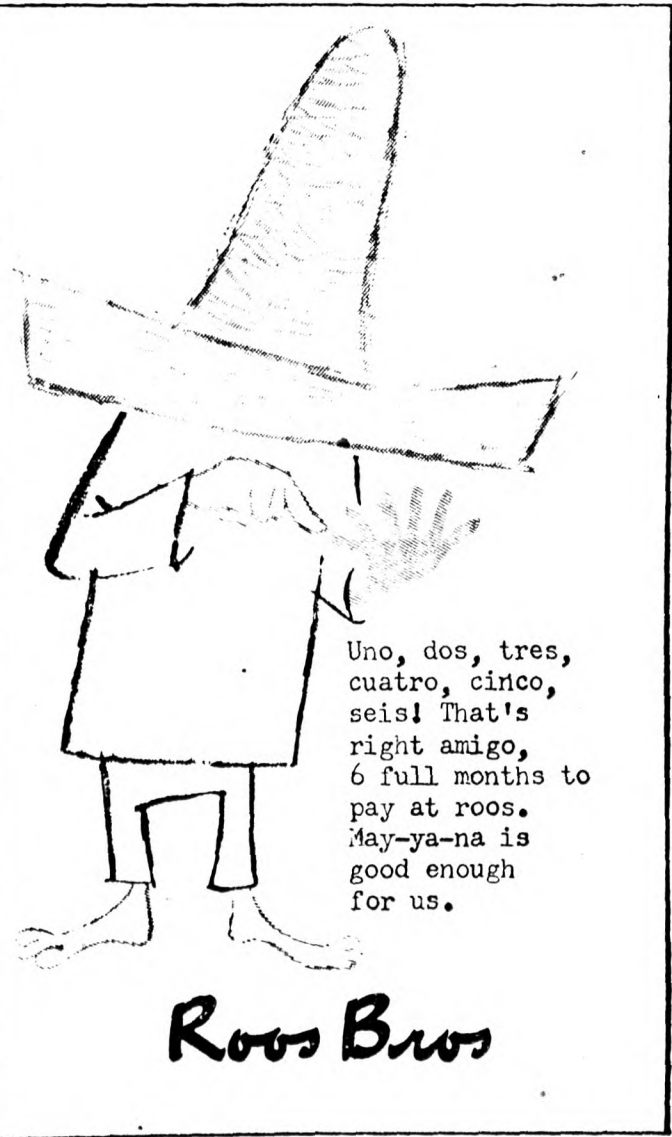

We would like to establish a "letters to the editor section" in our paper and herein print the comments of anyone on campus who feels he has something to contribute to the formation of a valuable constitution.

In addition to this we would like to receive questions which you would like answered with a note attached indicating who you would like to answer. We will print the questions and rebuttals. We are proposing this in an effort to include you, the students, faculty and alumni who must abide by this constitution in the negotiations.

The A.S.U.C.M.C.'s displeasure with the new proposed constitution is only tempered with the thought that the students' desires will be respectfully considered in the final draft of the constitution.

We must begin thinking of this now if we want a favorable solution. Decisions do have to be reached as the building is being built. Let us create an atmosphere across the street favorable to all.

What About The Armed Services?

Dr. Herman Riebe Named Armed Forces Coordinator

By DAVID WINEGAR

This year we have a new addition to the Dental School Staff, Dr. Riebe. Dr. Riebe is an instructor of Operative Dentistry and is also serving in a second capacity as a retired admiral of the Dental Corps of the U.S. Navy, he has had a great deal of experience along these lines and he is extremely enthusiastic to talk with students wishing to become an integral part of the Armed Services either on an active or inactive reserve status or on a career basis. True, most of his experience has been in direct regard with the Navy, however, he is well versed in each of the military programs, including those of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Public Health Services.

No Current Doctor's Draft Law

Since the Doctor Draft Law has gone out of effect, it appears that the chances of being drafted on a professional basis are practically nil, unless of course there is some increased demand for manpower which might occur in the event of another war. As it stands, the physicians and dentists are subject to draft on the same plan as any other Johnny or Joe. One might ask then, why sign the dotted line? Well, several benefits can be obtained by joining the Armed Services—especially while one is a student. For instance:

1—Choice of a branch of service desired.

2—Longevity can be established while being a student which leads to increase pay status.

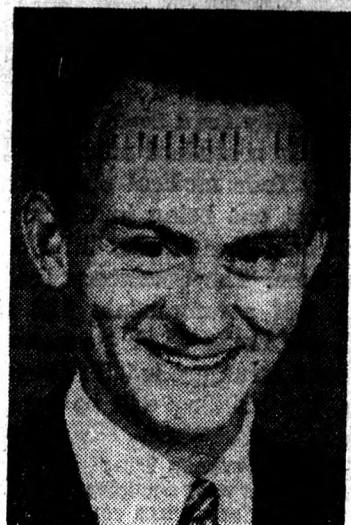

3—Retirement program.

Doctor Riebe will be available at regular office hours to fill in details. The hours being:

Monday, 9-12 a.m.; Tuesday, 1-4 p.m.; Wednesday, 9-12 a.m.; Friday, 9-12 or 1-4.

Please contact Dr. Riebe, Room 731-C Medical Science Building or phone him at Montrose 4-3600, Ex. 238. He would prefer to arrange appointments with the students.

Dr. Riebe has agreed to help the students of all of the Medical Sciences even though he is a functional part of the Dental School. All are welcome. This includes the female of the species—nurses, physical therapists, and medical technicians.

Attention, New Students!

We of the Synapse wish to welcome you to the U.C. Medical Center. You'll find that life on this campus will be very interesting, especially if you round out your academic curriculum by participating in some activity. Of course, we can think of no other function that would be as beneficial to you as well as to the "Center" than the Synapse. Therefore, we extend an invitation to any and all of you interested in joining our staff. You can contact us through Room 52, U.C. Hospital (next to Dean Johnstone's office) or by phoning David Winegar — SEabright 1-9846 at the Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity.

Meds Meet

Associated Students School of Medicine: Council Meeting Friday, October 11, at 7 p.m. the ASSM Council will meet, for the first time this semester. The agenda will include:

1—The Student Union: progress and problems.

2—International exchange: Vince Fausone, freshman, will report on the Clinic held in Germany this summer for medical students of many nations. The International Federation of Medical Student Associations has a varied program of "summers abroad on a professional medical basis" for travel-minded medical students.

3—Internship evaluation: survey work to date, and plan for discussion panels this month.

4—Premedical counseling in schools and colleges: a possible lead-the-way project in connection with national Student AMA. Interested students are invited to attend the meeting, which will be held in 136 Sciences Building.

The Constitution Headaches

While these questions were flying about, decisions had to be made—the building was going up and someone had to guide and direct this growth.

On one hand, Dr. Steninger tried to help and on the other Mr. Bateman, the Medical Center Business Manager, felt that he was responsible also. Neither had a precedent to fall back on and neither felt he had the authority to make the decision alone.

Constitution Committee

To solve the situation a Constitution Committee was formed with adequate representation from students, faculty, and alumni. This committee met three times and was assisted by several sub-committees formed from its members. The first meeting was held last November for the purposes of organization, another meeting was held in December and the last one in March of this year. As a result of these meetings a tentative constitution has been drawn up.

Copies of this constitution have been made available to the Administrative Committee, which is functioning at the Medical Center, in lieu of a provost, and to the representatives of the A.S.U.C.M.C. and to other groups and individuals concerned, such as the alumni. (The Administrative Committee is composed of seven members. The Dean of Medicine, who is chairman; the Dean of Students, the Deans of Pharmacy and Dentistry, the acting Dean of Nursing, the Business Manager and the Hospital Administrator.)

Constitution Problems

The problems revolve around such issues as:

1. Will the students or the University operate the book and supply store and the student-faculty cafeteria?

2. How much authority will the Board of Governors have in the running of the Union part of the building?

3. Will the students have a majority vote on the Board of Governors and the Executive Committee, which functions with the same authority as the Board in between its regular meetings?

4. Will the director of the Board of Governors be an adviser or a voting member of the board to whom he is responsible?

5. Is the Union to be strictly for students, faculty and alumni or will there be exceptions?

6. Will the students in general be given a chance to vote on the proposed mandatory student body fee for use of the Union? (It has been proposed in the tentative Union budget that this fee will be $10.00 per year or approximately $14,000.00 for the entire student body. In return, the A.S.U.C.M.C. would receive a $12,000.00 annual budget from the profits of the store and cafeteria, according to Mr. Bateman. This would be used to subsidize student organizations and to pay the bill for guest speakers, name bands and other educational or recreational activities as the student government sees fit. This money would be spent entirely at their discretion. (This money would be available whether the students or the University run the store.)

7. Who will choose the officers of the new Board of Governors—the Administrative Committee or the Board of Governors which is tentatively composed of 10 students and 11 members from the faculty, alumni and University administration?

There are many questions and many answers we don't know, but at least we have a proposed Constitution to work from. From this concrete beginning we must make many decisions. The Administrative Committee must make clear exactly what powers it plans to retain in the over-all operation of the Union. The business manager and the assistant business manager should be given a clear plan for their activities in the Union and the students and the Board of Governors must know exactly where their powers and duties begin and cease. This the Constitution should make clear.

Action

The A.S.U.C.M.C. met last Monday night at a special meeting to discuss the Constitution as it has been proposed. It is hoped that very soon a common agreement will be reached so that we can look forward with impatience to a "rip-snorten" opening day celebration next year. Let's make a dream of 30 years a reality we can all enjoy!

ON THE HILL

by Jack Hockel and Bob Neumayr

A GOOD TIME WASH HAD BY ALL: A boatful of enthusiastic fishermen pulled out from Princeton Point the Thursday morning of the Dent. School Picnic at 6 a.m. into the treacherous Pacific. Sharply at 6:45 fishermen began heaving lines & hash over the side. Reuben Burrell won the honors with a 28 lb. white sea bass. The funny thing about it was Reuben didn't even know he caught it, there were seven lines tangled and while all were arguing somebody looked out into the water and saw this bass float up, dead and upside down. After a slight altercation Reuben was declared winner since he felt the healthiest and strongest at the time. Anyhow, the boat went out looking like a fishing ship but came back looking more like a hospital ship.

T.G.I.Footnotes: Many people. Noise. Conversation. Talk. Talk. You did? Really? See that girl? Wow! Boy, what a hectic week this has been! Three exposures on my first three patients. Wow!

New faces. Old faces. Familiar faces. Unfamiliar faces. People. Everyday people. Every-other-day people. Some-day people. Talk. Talk.

People from everywhere; there, over there. Nurses. Nurses. Students. Student Nurses. Charming people. See that girl? Wow! I met you here last year, didn't I? It's been a long summer. You're a Physical Therapist? (Great!) How do you like the U. C. Medical Center? Ivory Towers, New Student Union. Three exposures! Wow!

Interesting incidentals. Forward girl. Bashful boy. Use the fire escape, man!

SCHOOL PICNICS IN GENERAL: A dangerous form of entertainment has been developing over the last 25 years. The Dental School Picnic at San Mateo aside from terrific food had a vast assortment of cuts, bruises, sea sickness, and even ruptured spleens. The Pharmacy School Picnic, Oct. 9 in Redwood City promises to be no less of a battle according to anonymous report. Since the battle will have occurred by the time we go to press, lots of luck, and may the best men win.

PRIZES? (Gifts-you-can-always-use-Dept. :) Golfers who struggled with that marvelous Palo Alto Golf Course were represented with such fine awards at the Dental School Picnic such as that $20 class key, a fine Norma pencil, a handy White Duck lab coat, and a book, "Fight Against Fear" (Is that a book on golf or Dental School?) Someone has a wonderful gift of choice—these choice gifts ARE wonders! OH well, a $20 class key may come in handy some day; and one can always use an extra White Duck for night work at Four Wheel Brakes.

DESPERATION IN THE CLINIC: Jim McFarland, Jr., Dent. Pexy, worked as a claim jumper this summer under the guise of a mineral examiner for the U.S. Forest Service. His job consisted mainly of taking samples from poor miners and evaluating of same for his gold inlay work.

LETTERS TO US EDITORS: Really must thank everyone for their tidbits of news and want more to continue. However, we couldn't resist printing a few in the exact manner they were sent in for our readers' enjoyment. We hope for more like these;

"Jeanette Sanborn got married this summer & is continuing her education in Vermont" ('nuff said)

"The senior DH class gave a get-acquainted party for the Juniors on Thurs-evening Sept. 26 at one of the apartments. Dessert was served." (somebody stole the drinks).

"Jean Roberson's home has moved to Seattle. Looks as if her heart has too!" (Must have taken all summer to move the house).

stances have been given as examples of interest shown.

Cafeterias

On the level below the lounge are the cafeterias. The larger of the two is the student-faculty cafeteria. The capacity of this room is equal to the combined capacity of the two cafeterias in Moffitt Hospital. Incorporated into this room is the snack-bar. It will provide fountain service. When the occasion arises, the cafeteria can be converted into an auditorium or party room by closing off the service area. Next door is the public cafeteria that will service a larger number than the present Moffitt coffee shop. These cafeterias open out onto the terrace. Here, fresh air and food can be enjoyed together. In addition to these facilities, special arrangements have been made for our faculty. On the main floor, another dining room is available to them. It is an alcove off the lounge with provisions for catering service.

When the student union opens, there will be parking facilities for 125 cars. The garage is located on the two levels below the cafeterias. In the future there will be space for 760 more cars in the garage that will extend to the rear of the student union. On behalf of the pedestrian, efforts are being made to have the city install traffic lights in the crossing between the Medical Sciences Building and the Student Union.

Plans Changed

Originally the State planned to build only dormitories and parking facilities. But interest in the Student Union was high. Three hundred thousand dollars were raised for the union by the alumni. Over the years, the students contributed two hundred thousand dollars from the profits of the Student Store and Canteen. Because of this interest shown by the alumni and students, the Regents agreed to match the amount that they raised. At great cost, the State changed the plans to include the Student Union, and is now contributing 2½ million dollars to the combined structure.

Dental Exec. Board

Dental Student Body President, Dick Jennings, has announced that the regular meetings of the dental executive board will be held at 5:30 p.m. in room 136 of the medical science building on the first Monday of each month.

Any dental student, who is interested, is invited to attend these open meetings.

SPORTS

By MITS FUKUMURA

Last Thursday, Dental students, hygienists, and faculty members took the day off from school to have an enjoyable day filled with a variety of sporting activities and prizes. As usual, the fishermen were the early risers. They met at Gardner's Fishing Landing in Princeton, and left the land about 6 a.m. Along with the fishermen were there hygienists, Carol Aasletten, Margie Sokol and Jan Sawyer. After five miles of ocean going, the girls turned out to be better fishermen—almost all of the members of the stronger sex felt a bit ill due to rough waters. However, sick or not, Reuben Burrell caught a 27½ pound White Sea Bass to win first prize—a $10 money order from S. S. White.

An hour or so after the fishermen had gotten out of bed, 28 golfers were getting up. They met at a golf course in Palo Alto. Most of the golfers, along with the duffers, hit high scores and all agreed that this was due to the faultiness of the course. However, Bob Nelson hit a low of 20 for nine holes and won a $20 Class Key. A Norma Pencil was awarded to Jack Hockel for coming closest to the pin on the ninth hole. The longest drive of the day was hit by Charlie Caldwell, and he was awarded a lab coat. A "booby prize," "Fight Against Fears," was awarded to John Baccelli who hit a grand total of 64 for nine holes. However, in all fairness to John, it must be said that every golfer has his off and on days.

Baseball

At the main picnic area in San Mateo, baseball games were being played between all of the dental classes. In the first game, the Juniors beat the Freshmen, 1-0, and in the second game the Seniors defeated the Sophomores, 5-0. After a steak luncheon, the Juniors, led by captain John Derdivanis, played the Seniors and managed to overcome the Seniors, 6-2. The members of the Junior team were presented ball point pens and captain Derdivanis, a Norma pencil.

Tennis was also being played at the main picnic grounds; and after one-half day of playing, all entries except Roger Kisner and Rudy Kopfer were eliminated. In the finals, Roger defeated Rudy 6-3, 8-6, and he was presented a $10 money order from Edwards.

Along with the above organized sporting events, volleyball, basketball, football and pingpong were enjoyed by the students to round out the day.

The ASMC intramural basketball league will begin on October 15th. Eight teams have entered: two pharmacy fraternities, Kappa Psi and Phi Deltas; two medical classes, Sophomore and Senior; and four dental fraternities, Psi O's, Alpha O's, Zips and Deltas. All games will be played on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 7 o'clock and 8 o'clock at Polytechnic High School. Each team is scheduled to play once a week.
