Dr. R. S. Stone Awarded Medal for Radiology

The Gold Medal of the American College of Radiology has been awarded to Dr. Robert S. Stone, chairman of the department of radiology in the University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco.

The Gold Medal is presented annually for distinguished contributions to radiological medicine.

Dr. Stone joined the University faculty in 1928 and became professor of radiology in 1938. From 1942 to 1946 he was associate project director for health at the Chicago Metallurgical Laboratory of the atomic bomb project. For contributions to health and radiation protection there he received the Medal for Merit, the highest civilian award for national service.

After the war he developed and now directs the Radiological Laboratory at U.C. Medical Center, where physical, chemical, biological and clinical investigations are conducted with the 70-million-volt synchrotron.

Dr. Stone is a member of the International Commission on Radiological Protection and the National Committee on Radiation Protection, and is past president of the Radiological Society of North America. His honors include the highest awards of the American Radium Society, the Radiological Society of North America, and the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Stone, 63, was born in Chatham, Ontario; his undergraduate and medical education were taken at the University of Toronto, where he received his medical degree in 1924.

Freshman Nurses Elect Officers

At their last meeting of the fall semester on Jan. 12, 1959, a group recognized by their new blue uniforms as the first year nursing students managed to gather together on the 7th floor of the 610 residence, and by that tried and true method of hiding their eyes and raising their hands, elected new officers. (In passing it might be noted that this meeting was ably conducted by Robbie Bradley who is now none other than president emeritus of the class.)

Now Nancy Nicholson can be seen frantically beating her fist on the arm of the chair (she has no mallet) enacting her duties as President. Helping her, not to beat her fist on the arm of the chair, but with other similarly important duties, is Alice Hata-shita, Vice-president. Sitting with her head bowed over a clip board and a small scrap of paper madly scribbling is Karen Hagen, Secretary. Reporting that the class is in its usual financial status, almost broke, is the glum faced treasurer (not always this way—only when reporting such depressing news), Barbara Penzotti.

Sporting the longest and most impressive sounding name an officer in this class can be blessed with is Nursing Student Body Representative (it takes me an entire line to write that one—almost) Joanne Gulde. Someday we hope to see Joan Vierra, Publicity Chairman, wildly working over posters which will announce some earth shattering event which we, the class, shall attempt to produce. Glue in her hand, our Historian Barbara Hyde can be seen carefully placing snapshots in our class scrapbook. Struggling to see that we are all in top notch shape is Jan Beesley, Athletic Chairman.

Newman Club Celebrating Its Tenth Anniversary

The tenth anniversary of the foundation of the Newman Club at the University of California Medical Center begins today with a lecture by Dr. Harold A. Harper at 8:00 p.m. in Room 664 of the Medical Science Building. Dr. Harper, who is a member of the Medical School staff, is the faculty advisor for the Club. He will speak on "Religion and Science."

The Newman Club was established on this campus on February 22, 1949 and is one of five hundred such units in the National Newman Club Federation.

tary Rose Echandi. Fr. Bernard Moran is club Chaplain.

The highlight of the tenth anniversary celebration will take place on March 8th. After the 9:30 a.m. Mass there will be an informal coffee hour in the li-

The three purposes of Newman are to advance the intellectual, spiritual and social spheres in the life of the student. The relatively short life span of the club on the UCMC campus certainly is no indication of its activity for in 1955 it was named the outstanding Newman Club of California. Then in 1957 Miss Betty Bear was awarded the honor of Miss Newmanite of California. In 1958 Maurice Elario was similarly honored as Mr. Newmanite of California. The present officers are President Terry Hayes, Vice-President Diane Reber, Treasurer Mike Clark, Corresponding Secretary of St. Anne's Church and that evening a dinner party honoring the Newman alumni of the past decade will be held in St. Anne's school cafeteria. A social hour will begin at 5:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 6:30. Besides the alumni the honored guests will be Fr. Julius Benson and Fr. John Scanlon who are the two former chaplains of the club. Dr. Richard McConville of the UCMC Dental Faculty and a past president of the Newman Club will represent the alumni with a talk at the banquet. The day will conclude with Benediction in St. Anne's Church following the dinner party.

Heart Paper at Carmel Meeting

A bridge between two controversial viewpoints on the origin of coronary heart disease is suggested in research reported here by two investigators from the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco.

Emotional stress and some defect in the body's handling of fats have both been proposed as causative factors in atherosclerosis (narrowing and clogging of the arteries) and resultant coronary attacks.

The U.C. studies indicate that fat metabolism can be controlled by changes in secretions of the sympathetic nervous system—changes like those that occur under stress.

The findings are not immediately applicable to treatment of patients, but they are of basic importance in the search for underlying mechanisms of heart disease.

The work was reported by Dr. Richard J. Havel and Dr. Alan

"Nursing In Action"

The School of Nursing, University of California, San Francisco Campus, was host to the 6th Conference of Continuing Education Program. This five-day conference, which began Jan. 19, 1959, is sponsored by the Western Council on Higher Education for Nursing (WCHEN), and the University of California, Los Angeles, Berkeley, and San Francisco Campuses. The theme was "Nursing in Action."

"Action," indeed, was the key word for these forty participants, as supervisors, administrators, and teachers for the first time in many years returned to the bedside and gave patient care under the supervision of members of the faculty and staff. Following each morning assignment, they gathered in small groups for discussions. The following persons were available to assist them in the interpretation of their patient care: Eleanor Lambertsen, Assistant Secretary to the Council on Professional Practice, American Hospital Association; Helen Nahm, Dean, School of Nursing, University of California, San Francisco; Irma Nickerson, Director, Nursing Service, Moffitt Hospital; Mildred Fehrenbacher, Supervisor of Nursing Service, UC Hospital, Los Angeles.

Also present were research consultants Frederick Todd, Behavior Research Laboratory, University of Colorado, and Anselm Strauss, School of Nursing, UC Berkeley-San Francisco. The regular conference faculty from UCLA are Lulu Hassenplug, Dean, School of Nursing; Clara Arndt, Assistant Clinical Professor of Nursing; Marjorie Dunlap, Lecturer in Nursing; Charles Ferguson, Conference Consultant, Department of Conferences and Special Activities; Katherine Justus, Assistant Professor; and Genevieve Meyer, Research Consultant. Faculty members from UC Berkeley-San Francisco are Alice Ingmire, Associate Professor, and Kathryn Smith, Assistant Professor.

Many interesting talks and panel discussions during the conference were directed at the improvement of patient care. Eleanor Lambertsen spoke on "What the Nurse is to Patients"; Lulu Hassenplug spoke on "What Patients are to the Nurse." A panel discussion focused on "The Environment for Patient Care" was presented by Dr. Claus Berblinger, Director, Clinical Service, Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute; Mrs. William Brownell of Berkeley; Clara Arndt; and Richard Blaisdell, Administrator, Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame, California.

Closed circuit television was used for the first time to focus attention on the nursing care of a patient. Zoya Sheedy, Staff Nurse, Neurosurgical Ward, Moffitt Hospital, gave nursing care to her patient and conferred with Dr. Lanche and Miss Doris Wallenkamp, head nurse for the television cameras. The Radio Corporation of America telecast the program to sixty WCHEN conference participants and ninety Moffitt Hospital staff nurses. Ninety student nurses of the UC School of Nursing volunteered their time to care for patients so that this large group of staff nurses could be released from duty to attend the special telecast and afternoon discussions.

The conference closed Friday, Jan. 23, 1959, with a panel on the meaning of "Nursing in Action" to the participants, and the farewell was given by Alice Ingmire, Chairman of the Program Committee.

Save a Dollar Buy Medi-Cal Now

Something quite new and twice as encompassing in scope is the all-engrossing drive to usher in Medi-Cal Week from Monday, March 2 to Friday, March 6. "We are out on a campaign to give you more for your money in the way of a bigger and better yearbook; the book will have a "new look," and the cover promises to catch your eye."

To let you in on the Medi-Cal Week activities, we'll start out by saying that this will be a "last chance" offer to buy the book at its original price of $4.50 or $2.50 down; after the Medi-Cal Week campaign ending on March 6, the price will go up to $5.50. Here is an account of where and how you will hear more about buying it. Your class reps are on the alert to sell their quota of 25 books each. The following are their names and respective classes: Lloyd Edington, 1st year Med; Bill Shapiro, 2nd year Med; Dick Reynold, 3rd year Med; and Kathy Mogan, 4th year Med; Carl Meyer, 1st year Pharmacy; Lila Redlick, 2nd year Pharmacy; Don Lee, 3rd year Pharmacy; Vince Severietti, 4th year Pharmacy; Jean Kimura, Freshman Nursing; Mary Haines, Senior Nursing; Julie Wong, 1st year Dental; Ken Purrucker, 2nd year Dental; Lemont Carr, 3rd and 4th year Dental; Judy Scott, 1st year Dental Hygiene; Ann Garbolin, 2nd year Dental Hygiene; and Ray Cogo, the representative for Physical Therapy, Medical Technology, X-ray, and Medical Illustrator.

Also, the main highlights during the all-out campaign will be the Medi-Cal sales booth downstairs in the Millberry Union cafeteria, the lunch hour every day from noon until 1:00 during March 2-March 6 week where a sales representative will be on hand for your convenience to accept your purchases. At these lunch hour sessions keep your ears peeled to the Tele-Page for something new in the way of a sales talk. As you saunter past the new Center's "official" bulletin board on the second floor, gaze at the thermometer scale and attempt to decode your school's standing in the record-breaking sales. And finally, the yearbook will go on sale for the first time at the Central Desk in Millberry Union during this week and will continue to extend this service until the end of the Spring semester. Thus, let us not hear that you were left in the dark as to the how, when, where, and from whom.

Be sure to remember to drop your favorite snapshot in the box (also at the Central Desk on your way to lunch in order to get it in the yearbook and pave way for the best yearbook yet, which is being put out by the School of Nursing this year (plug!))

"A BREAK IN THE CLOUDS"

The above cartoon appeared a year ago when SYNAPSE finally received the financial support needed for its continuation. Now we have that support—all we need is cooperation in obtaining news. No matter how much money we have, it is impossible for a few people to put out a newspaper without help. YOU have a responsibility to make sure that news is publicized—the future of SYNAPSE will be determined by how well that responsibility is fulfilled.

I'll Settle for "C"

by JACK O. ELLIS

College of Physicians and Surgeons, School of Dentistry '61

Reprinted from DENTAL STUDENTS' MAGAZINE, January, 1959

I've been pulling my margins
And faking these dogs;
I've been filling in pits
'Til they all look like logs.

I've been looking for centric
Since the first of the year;
Now my right eye's retruded
And looks through my ear.

I've been hacking out preps
Straight arrow for sure;
And getting the grades
That go well with manure.

While learning to solder
I spilled flux from the jar;
Now my thumb is a part
Of the lingual bar.

I've been on a schedule
Like a classic boob;
Then stay up all night
To be first down the tube.

I've been giving my all
To be head of the class;
But all of my grades
Come in litres of gas.

I've been trying real hard
To be a good boomer;
But that thing on my neck
Just must be a tumor.

So I give you my place
Without charge or fee;
When finals are over
I'll settle for "C."

The Scrapers Scrapbook

The senior Dental Hygienists, under the expert coachmanship of Lynda Nicol, emerged as the thrilled winners of the vigorous fall volleyball tournament. The season proved to be very successful for the hygienists who had the misfortune of "giving" away their first game of the season. However, the spirit and coordination of the "feather touch" volleyers led them to the winner's circle. Bravo!

Two girls among the senior hygienists have taken another step closer to the altar. Sharalee Ohlson became the fiancée of Dr. Thomas Wrigley, a practicing DDS in Eureka, California. Also Ann Garbolin surprised us with a lovely ring from Mr. Ross Kerr, a young executive with an import firm. Both girls are busy planning June weddings. Best Wishes!

Billie Rutt is eagerly viewing the winds and sailing schedules to Darmstadt, Germany, where she will join her husband immediately after the state boards. Bon voyage!

It seems that we have a TV personality among our ranks. Jean Poupard joined the "stars" by entertaining the youngsters on Captain Fortune's Hour with her clever puppet show. Word has it that the show stimulated the uninitiated "teeth-brushers." Well done!

Folk Dancers To Be Presented

Applause from spectators cheering the folk dance exhibitions presented by the International Dancers of Mission High directed by Lenore Bravo, and the Terpsichoreans of San Francisco directed by Grace Nicholes, will ring from the rafters of the gymnasium at Sunset-Lawton playground located at Lawton and 23rd Avenue, San Francisco, Sunday afternoon, March 8.

These exhibitions will provide an enjoyable rest for the dancers and a special treat for the WELCOME SPECTATORS at the FREE folk and square dance festival sponsored by the Recreation and Park Department and the San Francisco Council of Folk Dance Groups, hosted by the Swingsters folk dance club. Dancing begins at 1:30 and lasts until 5:30. Squares will be called by Harlan Beard, Bill Carroll, Gary Kirschner, and the Swingsters' own Ursula Mooney (Honey Bun).

The Swingsters, under the direction of Miss Vonoosh Tashinian, their president, have planned a varied program of international dances and squares that offers something for every dancer and will be fun for spectators. Folk dancers love spectators!

UCMC Cagers to Enter AAU Tourney

By Hiro Miyahara

The U.C. Medical Center basketball team has been invited to enter the AAU regional tournament to be held March 1, 3, 4, and 6, at the Kezar Pavilion. This annual tournament always offers tough competition and only the top teams eligible for AAU competition are invited. Other teams which will be playing in the tournament will be the V.F.W., Moffett Field, San Francisco Chinese, Green's Pest Control (Oakland), Reno, Napa, Los Angeles-Seattle Motor Express, and the Olympic Club.

The winner of this tournament will play the Southern California winner on March 7 with the winner of that game going back East to take on other regional winners.

The U.C.M.C. cagers will probably open with the same starting five in the tournament which has carried them through most of the season. They are guards, Hap Stallman and Ron Marena, center Bob Albo, and forwards, Duke Lewis and Bill Ware. Rounding out the squad with plenty of depth are Roger Rose, Barry Ogden, Charles Allen, Hank Chin, John Crew and Ralph Hienze.

There is an opening for a student manager for the U.C.M.C. team and anyone interested may inquire at the athletic control desk.

HUFFER'S CLUB

An outdoor organization called the Huffer's Club has been proposed. This would be a combined organization of all those interested in outdoor activities such as camping, skiing, sports cars, horse-back riding, picnics, water skiing, fishing, boating, bicycling, etc. Since almost everyone enjoys some sort of outdoor activity, it is believed that he would enjoy it even more in a group. Sign ups will be taken according to activity and whenever a particular activity is being planned, those people with similar interests will be notified. Also, combined activities may be arranged. For further information, inquire at the athletic control desk or see Bud Alexander, Recreation Supervisor.

Coming Films Announced

After opening the season with two technicolor musicals, the Union Film Committee will next present three film classics: RASHO-MON on February 27, THE OX BOW INCIDENT on March 6, and LA STRADA on March 13 and 14.

Voted an Academy Award as Best Foreign Film of 1951, and winner of numerous other awards, RASHO-MON is a completely engrossing and intriguing Japanese film, making use of remarkable photography and sound. Rounding out the program on the 27th will be SONG OF THE PRAIRIE, a delightful satire on the American western cowboy film, and a U.P.A. special, THE EMPEROR'S NEW CLOTHES.

A powerful and emotional film, THE OX BOW INCIDENT has taken its place as a United States film classic. On the playbill with "Incident" will be an excellent animated subject from Rumania, A SHORT HISTORY. Cartoon fare will be provided by Tom and Jerry in the way of HIC CUP PUP.

While RASHO-MON will feature Japanese dialog with English subtitles, LA STRADA will be offered with English dialog. Film Editor Arthur Knight of the Saturday Review, in speaking of LA STRADA, comments, "... a moving and compassionate work ... neo-realism on a new plane ... completely extraordinary." (In the way of an experiment, and because of broad interest in LA STRADA, this feature will be presented on both Friday and Saturday nights, March 13 and 14.) The balance of the program on March 13 and 14 will be provided by Disney's amusing documentary, A HISTORY OF AVIATION, plus another U.P.A. cartoon, GEORGIE AND THE DRAGON.

Movies are better than ever! Plan to attend any of these features, all on Friday nights (see note on LA STRADA above), at 8:00 p.m. in the Steninger Gymnasium. Admission price 30c per person.

Heart Paper at Carmel Meeting

Goldfien, assistant professors of medicine.

Their studies were done in U.C.'s new Cardiovascular Research Institute, and were supported by the San Francisco, Marin, Napa, and Tulare County Heart Associations, the American Heart Association, and the United States Public Health Service.

The investigators injected epinephrine (a substance secreted by the inner portion of the adrenal gland) and norepinephrine (a similar chemical released by other portions of the sympathetic nervous system) into human and animal subjects. This, they found, speeded the movement of a group of fatty substances called unesterified fatty acids from fat storage depots in the body into the bloodstream. This increased the blood levels of these fatty acids.

This change would be expected to result in increased fat content in the liver, which produces the cholesterol molecules that are contained in blood. High blood cholesterol levels have been associated with atherosclerosis and coronary disease.

Both in man and in animals, administration of epinephrine or of norepinephrine produced striking increases in the fatty acid levels in blood within minutes.

On the other hand, the investigators were able in a related series of experiments to produce a sharp fall in the blood levels of unesterified fatty acids by blocking the release of naturally-produced epinephrine and norepinephrine. These drops occurred rapidly after administration of the blocking agent, hexamethonium.

When another blocking drug (dibenzamine) was given, followed by administration of epinephrine or norepinephrine, the unesterified fatty levels did not rise. This is further evidence that the sympathetic nervous system participates in controlling fat metabolism.

Radioactive tracer studies of fatty acid movement in the blood indicated the fashion in which epinephrine and norepinephrine exert their control. Hexamethonium was found to produce a striking decrease in the flow of unesterified fatty acids into the blood from the fatty tissues where these substances are stored.

This decrease also occurred in animals whose adrenal glands had been removed. This showed that the observed effects resulted from blocking the secretion of norepinephrine at sympathetic nerve endings; it suggests that these nerve endings alone, by producing norepinephrine, may influence fat metabolism.

Americans As Viewed By A Visitor From A Foreign Culture

By Dr. Horace Miner
University of Michigan
Nacirema culture is characterized by a highly developed market economy . . . ; a large part of the fruits of these labors and a considerable portion of the day are spent in ritual activity, the focus of which is the human body, the appearance and health of which loom as a dominant concern in the ethos of the people.
The daily body ritual performed by everyone includes a mouth-rite. Despite the fact that these people are so punctilious about the care of the mouth, this rite involves a practice which strikes the uninitiated stranger as revolting . . . The ritual includes inserting a small bundle of hog hairs into the mouth, along with certain magical powders, and then moving the bundle in a highly formalized series of gestures.
In addition to the private mouth-rite, the people seek out a holy-mouth man once or twice a year. These practitioners have an impressive set of paraphernalia, consisting of a variety of augers, awls, probes, and prods. The use of these objects in the exorcism of evils of the mouth involves almost unbelievable ritual torture of the client . . .

Folk Dancers Hold Monthly Gathering

Eureka Valley Playground at 18th and Collingwood Streets in San Francisco rings with the joyous laughter of children. Mingled with these sounds on Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 5:30, February 15, 1959, were the sounds of music and dancing feet—adults of all ages at play in the gymnasium.
There was music: Mexican music, Russian music—all the international music that is the background of folk dancing; modern music—the background of round dances; and hoe-down music for the square dances.
There were soft steps and stamping, and laughing people enjoying this folk and square dance festival sponsored by the Recreation and Park Department and the San Francisco Council of Folk Dance Groups.
Hosting the festival were the officers of the Council: Ed Medley, Chairman; Bill Carroll, Vice Chairman; Edith Cuthbert, Secretary; Jack Mona, Treasurer. Bill Carroll also called squares, as did Harlan Beard, Ed Kroll and Ursula Mooney (the Pride of Marin).
Like all of our regular monthly folk and square dance festivals, this affair was FREE and OPEN to the public. Everyone, dancers and spectators alike, welcome!
