Associated Students

On behalf of the Associated Students, I welcome you to the University of California Medical Center. This San Francisco Campus of the University is renowned for its outstanding contributions to the health sciences. You will be proud to be known as a student here.

Perhaps as you enter this campus, you will realize that you are entering the professional world. By combining the health sciences on a single campus, the university has emphasized the unity of the medical professions. Underlying the existence of each school on campus is the common denominator of service. We are here so that we might learn to help others more effectively.

Service must be based upon experience as well as upon knowledge. The experience necessary is not only that of caring for patients, but also that of associating with other students and members of the related health professions. This interchange of friendship and ideas among the several schools is greatly facilitated by the activities of Millberry Union. It not only sponsors parties, intramural sports, and art exhibits, but also gives the students a home of their own and a place to relax during an academically-oriented day.

Millberry Union and your student government (ASUCMC) work together to offer you a varied program of lectures, concerts, and discussions. (Watch The Synapse for times, dates, and topics.) We invite your participation in these activities and urge you to take advantage of the many opportunities available for extending your world beyond the academic and into the social, cultural, athletic, and fraternal.

By maintaining contact with your representatives to the ASUCMC council, you alone can make student government more responsive. Within the limits of my office, I stand ready to hear any student with ideas or suggestions which would benefit the Medical Center community.

School of Medicine

Class of 1966: I take great pleasure in welcoming you to the University of California Medical Center and to the School of Medicine. Your pre-medical training has credited you entrance into an excellent medical school and you are to be congratulated. This, for you, is a challenging and exciting time as you now embark upon your formal professional training, and we share and appreciate these same feelings. This challenge is yours to develop and translate into academic achievement.

Enthusiasm and dogged determination are two important ingredients for academic success. Enthusiasm should ideally underlie your entire scholastic performance and is the natural resultant of all those varied factors which brought you to the medical profession. Never allow this attitude to be sacrificed for supposed sophistication and maturity, for it will serve you well as you repeatedly collide with the voluminous didactic material of the medical curriculum. Nevertheless, no matter with what amount of zeal you embrace your studies, you will soon find that what I have called dogged determination is needed in some proportion. This is a quality which some naturally attain to a greater degree than others, and you will soon realize which individuals in your class are so "possessed." Though I would not suggest an inhuman and entire abandonment to your studies—indeed a rare quality—I cannot strongly enough emphasize that the determination resulting in a disciplined and organized study regime will pay rich academic dividends. There is nothing impossible about the medical curriculum; nothing will confront you which is of any greater difficulty than that to which you have already been successfully exposed on the undergraduate level. The four years ahead are literally crammed with a great quantity of material, the entire acquisition of which is impossible, yet this does not give license for increased vigor to acquire those areas of greatest pertinence.

However, I would be very much amiss if I were to dwell entirely upon the academic side of your coming life at the Medical Center. A great deal of what I will now draw to your attention is represented in The Synapse. It tells of the many and varied activities which have been organized for you as a member of the Associated Students of the University of California Medical Center (A.S.U.C.M.C.). I believe you will soon find that the athletic facilities, varied social functions, and many special events which Millberry Student Union offers, will become an integral part of your leisure time. Take advantage, also, of enhancing your medical education by making use of the counsel and friendship of your instructors and faculty advisor. Actively consider the programs of the medical fraternities, the class intra-mural activities, campus religious groups, Student American Medical Association (S.A.M.A.) and the outstanding School of Nursing. Each can bring more meaningful expression to the four years which you will spend in the study of medicine.

Finally, we are happy to have you with us, and we look forward to a mutually beneficial association. I anticipate meeting many of you personally in the coming months, and if the A.S.S.M. legislature can ever be of any assistance, please inform your class president, who will report monthly to you on our meetings. I know I echo the sentiment of the entire School of Medicine when I offer you our best wishes for much success in your coming years.

School of Dentistry

On behalf of the Dental School Student Body, it is my sincere pleasure to welcome you to the University of California Medical Center. You are to be congratulated on being accepted at this outstanding institution and can well be proud of the fact that you are attending one of the finest health science schools with facilities that rank it among the top in the Country. You are now as much a part of this campus as anyone, and accordingly should feel very much at home.

The first few weeks you are here probably will be filled with excitement and apprehension. Excitement in being admitted to the school of your choice, and at last really getting down to becoming a part of your chosen profession. Apprehension in the unfamiliar surroundings, the many new faces, and the uncertainty of not knowing what is expected academically at a professional school. However, friends are made quickly in view of mutual situations and common problems, and your presence here attests to your academic capabilities

— RALPH HEATH, President
Associated Students
School of Dentistry

School of Pharmacy

Entering the Medical Center is one of the finest opportunities with which you have been presented in your educational career. Here at U.C.M.C. there is available to you every kind of information, teaching device and teaching service that could be desired. You now are in a position to become learned and proficient in your chosen profession. Every necessary tool has been provided for you — now, all that remains to determine your success is your desire to learn. Nobody will do it for you, no one will push or force you; your success depends only on you. "Success" in a professional school is not confined to achieving A and B grades, or even just barely passing. Success involves study, interest, and attitude.

It is rather obvious that good study habits must be cultivated if we are to do well in our academic work. But this quality can not, and will not, be possessed by you without interest.

By interest I mean a curious attitude, one which forces you to seek for more than that which is required of you. We here at U.C.M.C. are in a unique position, in that all of the schools of the medical sciences are closely related, thus providing the opportunity for education beyond the bounds of one's own narrow field. The extensive library, the various faculties, your friends in other schools, all provide a source of education which will allow you to go beyond your own textbooks. This opportunity is not taken advantage of nearly as much as it should be and I urge one and all to take an active interest in communicating with those in schools other than their own.

This idea of inter-professional communication leads directly to what I have referred to as attitude. Here I speak of professional attitude. If any branch of the medical profession is to function in a truly worthwhile manner, if it is to provide patients with the best of medical attention, it must first understand the need for inter-professional relations. No branch is a complete medical service in itself. Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy and Nursing all have their place in serving the public health and all are dependent on one another.

Cultivating a means of communication between professions must be done and can easily be done on this campus. Let's meet our fellow U.C.M.C. students on a professional level, as well as on social terms; everyone will benefit.

Personally, and on behalf of the School of Pharmacy Student Body, I wish all the new students the best of luck during their stay at the Medical Center.

School of Nursing

Welcome to the San Francisco Campus! Survey your surroundings and join in sharing a wealth of experiences. Life here is full of contrasts—life and death, joy and sadness, rich and poor, young and old, good and bad, clamor and quiet; savor each—for each adds to the quality of your education.

And I would like to offer some suggestions which may facilitate your socialization into Med Center society. Let it be known that you are "in" when . . .

- You can cross Parnassus on a rainy day without rain gear and remain reasonably dry.
- You can turn in your academic work late with an excuse which the instructor accepts.
- You can in the elevator, both converse in six syllable words and understand the conversations about you.
- You can take those immunizations at Student Health without so much as a twitch of a muscle.
- You can get your lunch at the Millberry counter before the fifteen persons surrounding you.
- You can walk through the corridors in your stiffly starched white lab coat without feeling unduly proud or important.
- You can find a parking place on days when there is a 49'er football game.
- You can discuss any type of problem known to medical science over a meal without losing your appetite.
- You can get in a game of pool or ping-pong at the Union before that next class.
- You can stay away from the library all week and still go skiing on the weekend.
- You can walk up the Arguello hill without becoming short of breath.

Best wishes for your studies and have an enjoyable and profitable stay on this campus.

To: The Editor, Synapse
 From: Mr. R. A. Alexander

It hardly seems possible, but on the 19th of this month, the Millberry Union will begin serving its "second generation" of students as it enters its fifth year of operations. Enthusiastically, our entire staff extends a very special "welcome" to the Class of '66, and a hardy "welcome back" to all upperclassmen. We sincerely believe that from every standpoint, the 1962-63 academic year will be the Union's finest year. To substantiate this optimism, let's take a glance at some of the special activities that have been "blocked out" for the Fall Semester:

Films.....See separate article, page 5.

Musical Events...See separate article, page 7.

Noon Lectures....See separate article, page 5.

"The Strugglers".....(Banjo Band) will make their third campus appearance on Friday, September 21. (See separate article, page 2.)

Bay Cruise and Dinner Party...Wednesday evening, October 10. Watch for future announcements and other publicity.

Lost and Found Auction.... A brand-new event, set for Tuesday noon, October 16. With the cooperation of the Campus Police Department, and with the help of a special "auctioneer" (local dignitary—name to be announced), students will have an opportunity to bid on and buy an amazing array of items now included in the Police Department's lost-and-found repository.

Drama.....Tentatively, the date of Tuesday evening, November 13, has been set aside for a performance of "The Rose Tatoo" by students in the Department of Dramatic Arts, Berkeley Campus. Watch for further details in future issues of this newspaper.

Stag Night.....For men only, of course. Set for Tuesday night, November 20. Details (some of them) to be released.

Union Board Meeting...The first such meeting of the year will be held Tuesday night, October 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Board Room (Room 133). This meeting, and all meetings of the Board are open to anyone wishing to attend.

- Copies of various Union "information pieces"—film and art exhibit schedules and the 1962-63 Activities Calendar are now available at the building's Central Desk. Be sure and obtain your copy.

- NOTE that the small fee, formerly charged for playing table tennis, has been discontinued.

- NOTE that this year for the first time, student groups (on the basis of prior arrangements and approval from the Union Food Services Director, A. T. Allegra) will be permitted to "bring in" their own refreshments to socials, meetings, etc., e.g., cakes and cookies.

- NOTE that the Provost's administrative proviso" referable to campus food service (dated February 3, 1961) remains in effect i.e., except when the Millberry Union food facilities are closed, "the two cafeterias in Moffitt Hospital will be closed to all students and reserved exclusively for the faculty and non-academic personnel."

- NOTE the Union's new shoe shine stand, opened late last Spring and located just south of the entrance to the Public Cafeteria on the Ground Floor.

... and in closing, NOTE that in the new school year we will continue to do anything and everything possible to perpetuate the Millberry Union as "the living room of the campus" and NOTE that we are eager to receive your comments, suggestions and criticisms in this regard. Contact the Office of the Union Director, extension 721, or much better yet, drop into Room 240 for a personal visit.

"Take Your Girlie to the Movies . . ."

The Millberry Union Film Committee, member of the American Federation of Film Societies, has announced its schedule for the first semester of the 1962-63 year—the fifth consecutive year the Committee has brought quality cinema to the Medical Center.

Complete and printed film schedules are now available at the Central Desk of the Union, with a "preview" of the feature subjects offered at this time:

In addition to the feature, each Friday evening program includes a special and interesting short subject. The annual film series is open to students, faculty, alumni and employees of the Medical Center.

Noon Lectures to Resume

The popular "Noon Topics" lecture series will begin again on September 19, at noon in the Auditorium of the Medical Sciences Building. The series is designed to promote an interest in Human Ecology: The science of man in an ever-changing environment, influenced by sociologic structure, biologic species and geographical factors. These lectures represent "frontier thinking" in many fields of science, philosophy, literature and human affairs—areas which influence, directly or indirectly, the physical and psychological environment and the well-being of man. All programs are conducted on Wednesdays, and the schedule through October follows:

"Oh When the Saints . . ."

Pictured above are "The Strugglers" who will return for their third smash campus appearance on Friday evening, September 21. (9:00 p.m. to midnight in the Steninger Gymnasium.) This brilliant young group from San Francisco's Red Garter Cafe played to S.R.O. audiences at the Med Center in 1960 and 1961 and because of their immense popularity, the location of the event has been shifted from the cafeteria to the gymnasium.

Tickets for this very special program may now be purchased at the Union Central Desk and students are urged to obtain these as quickly as possible. Another sell-out is expected and TICKETS WILL NOT BE SOLD AT THE DOOR. The individual ticket price of $1.50 includes free refreshments throughout the entire evening, and it is most important to note that THE TYPE OF REFRESHMENTS WILL BE IDENTICAL TO WHAT WAS SERVED LAST YEAR.

Once again this year the big September 21 party is a stag or drag affair, and casual dress is suggested. Get your tickets as soon as possible for this repeat performance of one of the brightest and most enjoyable entertainment groups in all show business today.

Art Shows Set

During the Coming school year, the Union Fine Arts Committee will again offer a series of perpetual exhibits, designed to "expose" Union members to a wide and different variety of art forms. Nine major shows have been arranged, as per the schedule below:

NEXT SYNAPSE DEADLINE DATE

Music, Music, Music

Looking ahead to Fall Semester events, one might get the impression that a Music Department has been added to the curriculum. Not so. However, the Millberry Union Board has lined up quite an array of special activities, all designed to perpetuate the Medical Center's heritage as a "musical campus." Monday, October 22 -- Solo vocal concert by tenor Allen Keller. Main Lounge at noon. Free

Saturday, October 27 -- Second Annual "Spaghetti and All That Jazz" Party. An authentic spaghetti dinner, coupled with lots of live Dixieland Jazz. Union Cafeteria. Time and price to be announced.

Auditorium. Time and price to be announced. Free

SYMPHONY TICKETS -- This year again, the campus will hold membership in the San Francisco (student) Symphony Forum. Series tickets (for students only) will be placed on sale at the Union Central Desk. Watch for announcements re: sale dates, performance dates, prices, etc.

By no means should the above "musical roster" be considered as complete. Watch for announcements of additional events as the semester develops.

Anyone for Bach?

Effective July 1, 1962, the Millberry Union assumed the sponsorship of the San Francisco Doctor's Orchestra. This unique group will continue to hold its rehearsals in the San Francisco Medical Society Auditorium and it will be "administered" by Millberry Union personnel. The orchestra will present two campus concerts annually, one each semester. (Fall concert set for Friday, November 9, 1962.)

Returning as Conductor for the 1962-63 season, is Mr. Edgar J. Braun, who states: "The San Francisco Doctor's Symphony joins me in expressing its delight at the cooperation the Millberry Union is evidencing in its support of the Orchestra. Members of the faculty, students, employees and their families, are invited to participate with us and to attend rehearsals for future concerts. Players are requested to contact the Conductor, Edgar Braun, at DO 2-1404 for information regarding orchestra openings and rehearsals."

FROM THE EDITORS' DESK

In behalf of the Associated Students of the University of California Medical Center, we wish to introduce the first fall issue of your campus newspaper. The Synapse endeavors to provide a reliable and informative communicative media for the separate schools as well as the Millberry Union administration. This year The Synapse content will include activity schedules, professional articles pertinent to the health sciences, and several quite promising feature columns. By integrating the academic and social aspects of the individual schools, The Synapse functions as an additional contribution to the intellectual stimulation and entertainment within the medical community. The most vital element to the success of The Synapse is student interest and participation. We need active support to maintain the desirable standards of your newspaper. Anyone who wishes to contribute his time and talents towards this objective will be greatly appreciated. Journalistic experience is not necessary. Please contact Mr. Bob Alexander, on the second floor of Millberry Union, if you express such an interest in The Synapse.

C A N D I D I

Written especially for the new students, this column intends to provide the "inside eye" into life on a campus reeking with superimposed professional atmosphere. Little known to the casual observer, underneath lab coats, uniforms, and stoic faces, there lurks a smoldering capacity for reckless abandon, off-hours nonconformity, and multitudinous eccentricities.

As an introduction to sub-student life at the Medical Center complex, I now present an intimate sneak preview of candid and not-so-candid observations. One will find that the different professional schools handle their repressed frustrations in various forms of predictable behavior. This enables me to make character generalizations such as the following:

Dental students, known particularly for their physical sublimation, often group their efforts by creating hustle cities, the most notorious of which are the infamous ZIP parties.

The prime prey of the dedicated Zipper is the eager new female student who naively ventures forth with innocent expectations. If she arrives fashionably late, she will be descended upon at the door by such charming hosts as Pretty Boy Linck, Dick Stowell, affectionately known in his off-hours as Animal, and his faithful side-kick, Tweety Ingdahl. Lurking in shadowed corners, silently speculating and calculating, can be seen Stompanato Missakin, Maffia Martin, Baby-face Alexander, and Beta-ray Johnson. Bombing about, engaging in more active forms of social expression, I find those who have absconded from marital bliss for the evening, most notable being Devil Doozee and Freedom Fischer.

The nursing students have an infallible tendency to appear en masse in Millberry Cafeteria, obviously not because of its culinary reputation. While they may seem to be rejoicing over Millberry's delectable chow yuk, eyelashes flutter and eyes subtly follow male prospects who saunter conspicuously to and fro. We see among the budding Jezebels such remarkable personalities as Tinkerbell Gurcke, Betty Boop Whitney, Mother Boddum, and Delilah DeWolf. Don't be too surprised if Leaping Lida should happen to jump upon a table and valiantly try to arouse lagging Med Center spirit with a couple of cheers and a harmonica solo. The nursing school also boasts the distinction of having the largest group of Amazon queens this side of Watusi-land. Radiating the charm of stampeding ostrichii and the grace of giraffes are Lanky Linda, Jody Longlegs, Bambino Cook, Long Tall Blackford, Smashing Stolte, and Big Barton, the California Space Needle. This clan selects feminine speculaculans of 5'-8" or over—mostly over.

Surrounding the noontime pool table are the Millberry hustlers taking just another quick break. Composing this group of conscientious medical students are Falcon Levenson, Fox Pollack, Fast Eddy Sebastian, and U.C. Fats Kahn. Tension mounts as Crude Harvey, Dirty Mel, Big Boy Pete, and Black Earl make the scene. Intensity is momentarily broken by a spontaneous, scintillating shimmy from Easy Ester—the Corcoran Flash. Professor Traig loses his most vital security symbol as his shades fall into the side pocket and are brutally smashed by Mean Mike Gollab's powerful eight-ball.

The Medical Center has temporarily lost such inspiring personalities as Hathaway, the Limbo King, Tequila Janowsky, Dave Alvarez, the Water Wonder, and Jerry Jorgenson, the Freud of our time. While these outstanding, young medics are playing doctor at County Hospital, Big John Kuss, Doc Schmaelzle, and Humble Hank have returned and, once again, science marches on.

One sees very little of the pharmacy students and word has it that the revenueurs are highly suspicious of their back room laboratories where they spend so much time. A few are occasionally seen in Millberry Cafeteria being entertained by Snowman Perkins' stupendous smoke rings and the wonder of Mike Misakian's amazing display of facial hirsutism. Their noisiest activity is centered in the library where they are known as champion paper-rustlers, gum-poppers, pencil-sharpeners, and slide rule-snappers.

GREETINGS FROM THE UNION RECREATION DEPARTMENT

Each year at this time, the Union Recreation Department is honored with the privilege of greeting all new and returning students through the medium of the sports and recreation page of The Synapse. This opportunity is appreciated. We warmly extend a hearty "welcome back" to all returning students and a special "glad to have you" to all of our new students. A wise man once said "When the mind is tired, exercise the body." We accept this as good advice though it is too seldom followed even by those who realize the need the most. For this reason, the Millberry Union offers not only excellent facilities for this purpose but a well-organized program designed to meet the needs of both student and faculty.

Numerous activities are planned with the idea that there should be "something for everyone." We are sure you will find this to be true as you take time to relax and enjoy yourselves by using the Union facilities. You will find the academic strain to be relieved by active participation in the activities of your choice. You will find your athletic needs easily taken care of through use of the Union's compact but extensive athletic facilities. These facilities include a fully-equipped multi-purpose gymnasium (outfitted with a jumbo-master trampoline and a complete line of gymnastic apparatus), an exercise room, two competition squash and handball courts, and a beautiful 20-yard heated swimming pool. Basketball, volleyball and badminton can be enjoyed in the gymnasium, while an adjacent games area provides for table tennis, billiards and table games.

A variety of intramural activities will provide a competitive atmosphere for both men and women and an extensive swimming instruction program for all ages is available at the swimming pool.

We encourage you to visit the Union often. Make it your campus center. It is your Union—use it well. We hope your enjoyment in participating and using the Union will be as great as ours will be in serving you. The Union will afford you the opportunity to make many new friends. We are proud of the Union and are happy to serve you. Feel free to call on any of us if we can help you in any way. We will be delighted to give you assistance.

PHARMACY WINS SUMMER INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL LEAGUE

With a 7-win, no loss record, and with the assistance of their high-powered pitcher, Bill Smith, the Pharmacy School softball team easily won over its 5 other opponents in taking the first annual UCMC summer softball league championship. The Sophomore Medical School team took a second place with a 4-win, 2 loss and 1-tie record, while the Junior Dental "A's" followed close on their heels with a 3-win, 4-loss and 1-tie record to take a third place. All games were played on Tuesday nights at Funston Playground and from all reports everyone had a lot of fun and got in some good exercise during the summer. Thanks go to Jim Powers for his assistance in directing the league and to Dave Smith, Pete Gruen, Charles Levin and Lenny Traubman for their assistance as team managers. The success of the 1962 summer league points out that there is a desire and need for such activity to continue in coming summers.
